AYALA CORPORATION 9M 2020 EARNINGS RELEASE November 12, 2020

Ayala posts better performance in 3Q on improved economic activity

3Q20 vs 2Q20 Highlights

"It is encouraging to see improvements in the performance of our businesses as the economy gradually reopens. Ayala Land, BPI, and AC Industrials have all shown a marked recovery in their third quarter results compared to the previous period. Meanwhile, Globe and AC Energy are fairly stable components that have provided a boost in our portfolio in recent months. We are hoping to see this trajectory sustained in our businesses with a further loosening of restrictions," Ayala President and COO Fernando Zobel de Ayala said.

- The improvement in mobility, business operations, and overall economic activity brought about by the gradual easing of quarantine protocols from March to September enabled Ayala's subsidiaries to perform better on a quarter-on-quarter basis.
- Ayala's net income in the third quarter more than doubled to ₱3.4 billion compared to the previous quarter, mainly on improved performance of Ayala Land and AC Industrials, lower loan loss provisions booked by BPI, and the absence of remeasurement losses from Manila Water recognized in 2Q.
 - Ayala Land's net income accelerated to ₱1.8 billion from ₱200 million as mobility and sentiment improved starting September when Metro Manila reverted to more relaxed restrictions under a General Community Quarantine from a Modified Enhanced Community Quarantine.
 - BPI's net income improved four percent to ₱5.5 billion due to lower loan loss provisions.
 - Globe's net income declined 11 percent to ₱4.4 billion despite healthy data revenues from its mobile and home broadband business on the back of heightened advertisement and promotions costs and non-operating expenses.
 - AC Energy's net income decreased 54 percent to ₱1.1 billion mainly on the absence of revaluation gains on certain investments in the third quarter.
 - AC Industrials significantly narrowed its net loss to ₱224 million from ₱1.3 billion the previous quarter as plant operations normalized across all regions and gross profit margin expanded as a result of better factory performance efficiencies.

9M20 vs 9M19 Highlights

- Ayala Corporation's net income in the first nine months of the year declined 75 percent to ₱11.4 billion, mainly as a compounded effect of:
 - Restricted construction activity and mall operations in Ayala Land since mid-March

- Ayala's core businesses recorded lower net profits in the period ending September as a result of the health crisis.
 - Ayala Land's net income decreased 73 percent to ₱6.4 billion as a result of lower project bookings from suspended construction activity, restricted mall and hotel operations, and closure of resorts.
 - BPI's net income declined 22 percent to ₱17.2 billion due to the ₱21.1 billion in loan loss provisions it booked in anticipation of an increase in NPL levels. The provision was 4.6x higher than the ₱4.6 billion allocated in the same period last year.

 - AC Energy has 65 percent of its attributable capacity onshore, 21 percent in Vietnam, and seven percent each in Indonesia and India.
